Seco C-Series General Purpose End Mills

Provide manufacturers flexibility with a range of chamfer, square end and ballnose geometries for roughing and finishing when side milling, face milling or slotting. Modified standards are available. SIRON-A coating boosts general-purpose tool life by up to 30% and is the first-choice universal coating for steels, cast iron and stainless-steel materials.

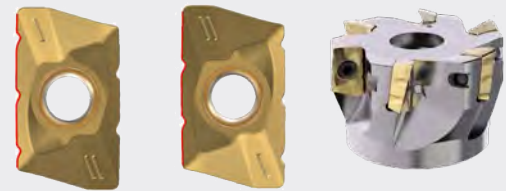

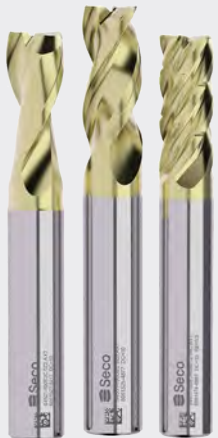

Up to 3 x greater tool life per edge

Helical Ln4-11 Milling Cutters

Provides robust material removal rates in operations requiring a cutter 32 – 63 mm ( 1.25" - 2.00") in diameter. Helix inserts feature four cutting edges to maximize cost effectiveness. Both front and helical insert pockets eliminate the potential for incorrect loading.

Solid End Mill Range For Aluminum Machining

The range of solid end mills for aluminium applications incorporate geometries and features that ensure exceptional quality and productivity. These tools easily handle the highest feed rates and cutting speeds available on modern machine tools. The unique AXT coating has an extremely smooth top layer with reduced droplets, which results in less friction and reduced cutting forces to boost tool life and achieve mirror surface finishes. Each tool provides flexibility and performs both roughing and finishing across a broad range of operations. These tools offer the industry's best performance and reliability for manufacturers working with aluminum.

Turbo 12 & 18 Chip Splitter Inserts

Use grooves to reduce cutting forces and generate smaller chips. This minimizes stress on the machine and tool, as well as eliminates vibration and chatter. The result is a more stable process that allows for a greater degree of unattended operation. The smaller chip size also reduces the risk of chip jamming, increases the effectiveness of deep pocket machining, and minimizes the overall volume of chips. Chip splitter inserts provide these benefits without having to reduce cutting data.

T35-H Threading Taps

Threading taps combine optimized geometries, HSSE-PM material and TiAlSiN coating to achieve exceptional results in tough and abrasive materials. The tool geometry provides effective chip formation across hard steels, cast irons, and cast aluminums. The abrasion resistance of the coating ensures long tool life and a 15-degree helix angle produces small, manageable chips. Relatively large flutes efficiently evacuate chips even when the tool is kept stationary on a turning machine or rotated.

JETI Toolholders

Bring the benefits of high-pressure coolant to round, positive turning inserts. These toolholders are easy to integrate and improve chip control, process security and productivity. Their performance is well-suited for dynamic turning strategies that optimize pocket machining.

Thread tapping in challenging materials just got easier
